FOREST FIRE WARDEN'S REPORT

PREVENTION IS YOUR BUSINESS

Carelessness, HUMAN CARELESSNESS, causes 9 out of 10 forest fires. Each year 200,000 fires burn over 30 million acres in the United States. This represents 5 percent of our nation's woodlands being wasted each year. Every fire takes its toll. Floods follow; stream flow is affected; timber, buildings, grazing and wildlife are destroyed — all because MANY are CARELESS with fire in and near woodland. This can be remedied. YOU can put an end to this shameful waste. PREVENTION is YOUR business!

YOU, whether YOU be a farmer, homemaker, business or professional man or woman, municipal, state or federal official, clerk or woodsman can play an important part in the continuing and vital prevention program.

First — by setting a good example YOURSELF — being sensible and complying with the necessary laws and regulations governing the use of fire in and near woodlands.

Second — by using YOUR individual influence in your community and valued counsel with others in insisting and encouraging them to do likewise.

The following rules may be used as a guide for both YOU and for them.

1. Before burning, secure a permit from your local forest fire warden — the law requires it.
2. Be sure to properly supervise your burning — don't leave it.
3. Make certain your fire, camp or debris, is DEAD OUT before leaving it.
4. Don't throw down lighted matches, cigars and cigarettes or from moving vehicles — make sure they are out — use your ash tray.
5. Don't burn at home — use your town dump and save yourself much possible difficulty, both personal and financial.

Number of local fires, none; number of acres burned, none; number of permits issued, 21.

OUR TOWN

1760-1960

"Granted 1760 by Governor Benning Wentworth, bearing the name of Governor Theophilus Eaton of Connecticut." (N. H. Manual for The General Court. No. 37. 1961)

"The town now contains 25,600 acres, and is in the eastern part of Carroll. There are six ponds: Walker's, Robertson's, Russell, Long, Thurston and Trout. Along the north side of the town are extensive meadows marking the situation of immense beaver dams here prior to the settlement. It is surrounded on the east by Maine, south by Freedom, west by Madison, north by Conway. The town is hilly; some having quite high elevations. Foss and Kent mountains are the highest peaks, the first being a station of the United States Coast Survey. Glines, Clark, and Lyman mountains are on its western side."

"The First Town Meeting was called by David Page, legislative committee, to be held at the house of Samuel Banfill, July 1, 1784, when town officers were chosen."

"In 1820 Eaton had 1071 population; 1432 in 1830; 1743 in 1850; 780 in 1860; 657 in 1870; 629 in 1880. In 1858 it had two Freewill Baptist churches, twelve school districts, five sawmills, one sash, blind and door factory, and one bedstead factory."

"Eaton Centre — The merchants at the Centre have been Enoch Danforth, Samuel Robertson, Leonard Harriman, Isaac Demeritt, Glines & Smart, Jacob Manson, Erastus Baker, and later N. G. Palmer, Charles Robertson, Robertson & Snow, Clement Drew, John S. Loud. Since 1880 the manufacture of sale clothing has been carried on by John S. Loud, Clement Drew, and N. G. Palmer. There is a hotel, a postoffice, and a neat church here. Nathaniel Palmer conducts the hotel, a most lovely one in which to pass long summer days, as it is encompassed with most pleasant scenery."

"Snowville — W. F. Brooks, Silas, Alvan and Edwin Snow, under firm-name of Brooks & Snow, began to trade as merchants in Snowville in 1856. In 1860 Edwin Snow became sole proprietor, and was so until 1873 . . . Leslie P. Snow succeeded Brooks in 1878 . . . Mr. Snow manufactured sale clothing from 1858 to 1880 . . . In 1881 Frank P. Snow's brother, Willie N. Snow, joined him in the manufacture of carriages and sleighs as Snow Bros. . . . Snowville postoffice was established in 1883 with Everett Stanley, as postmaster."

"The Pioneer, William Robertson, born in Scotland 1759, died 1813, was a son of William Robertson, who settled at Saratoga, N. Y., in 1768. When William was seventeen he enlisted, as he supposed, in the Continental Army of the Revolution, but really into the English army, and was taken to Canada. He was one of a scouting party sent to the Chateaugay woods, and when nearest the American lines deserted with two others, and on joining the Americans wished to enlist, but the commander, Colonel Eli Glines, advised them to get back into the wilderness. Mr. Robertson came to Conway and worked two years for Colonel Andrew McMillan, and was a daring hunter. On one of his hunts, he discovered Robertson pond, and as soon as peace was declared, in 1784, made his "pitch" at Eaton Centre on lands still in the family."

As we, the residents of Eaton, 1961, trace these footsteps of history, as quoted from "A History of Carroll County (1889)," and as they lead us back two hundred years, past the beacons of time, to the beginning of our town, from out of the mixture of nostalgia and speculations there emerges one definite thought.

Surrounded as we are by the old names which ring to familiarly that they may almost be echoes coming from the changeless hills that roll gently back from the lovely waters of Robertson pond (Crystal Lake), perhaps touching history so intimately as we do, and thus feeling the strength and the bravery, the faith in country and God that inspired the Old Ones to accomplish their magnificent victories in the wilderness, perhaps we in turn have a responsibility to the present and the future which would not be so readily expected of those who live in the confusing complexities of the great cities, where all is change in the name of the modern god Progress.

If this be so, let us then in this two hundredth anniversary year of our beginning, when the world about us so tragically seems to be seeking vainly for an answer to its sore distress, rededicate at least our few numbers here to the old truths and principles which proved such trustworthy attributes of the spirit and mind when our town and our country were in their infancy. America will never again regain its self-confidence and its moral revitalization thru an edict from Washington; it will only begin to build again, and walk straight and proud and fearless again, because individual Americans in towns like Eaton want it to, and want it so much that they will be the first, please God.

1. SCOPE OF THIS STUDY

This study was undertaken at the request of the Conway School Board, under a warrant article passed at the 1959 Conway School Meeting. Its purpose was to explore the possibility of entering into a co-operative agreement between the interested towns, to provide for the rapidly increasing enrollment at Kennett High School. The following school districts participated in the study:

2. OUTLINE OF CONCLUSIONS REACHED

- (a) The best solution to the problem of our increasing school population is a co-operative school for grades 7 through 12.
- (b) This co-operative would
 - make possible a unit large enough for efficient operation
 - assure adequate space for some years to come,
 - make possible a stronger curriculum, and
 - permit the towns to participate in school administration.
- (c) The cost, when compared to present costs for facilities and tuition, would be reasonable.

3. THE PROBLEM

Kennett High School will soon be overcrowded. Even now, some departments (laboratories, shops, home economics) have to limit admissions because of lack of space and facilities. Our educators tell us that when the enrollment at Kennett passes 550, makeshift classes will have to be set up. The estimated enrollment shows that the critical point will be passed in September of 1961 and will require drastic measures by September of 1962.

Year beginning September	Estimated Enrollment Grades 9 - 12
1961	576
1962	626
1963	667
1964	685
1965	669

These figures are based on students now actually attending elementary grades, and allows for a normal drop-out rate in high school.

4. POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS

(a) Enlarge Kennett High School.

After consulting an architect, the Committee decided that this would be very expensive in relation to the additional space provided, would require further expansion of the heating and other service facilities, and would mar the pleasing appearance of the building.

(b) Limit the acceptance of tuition students.

Aside from the consideration that this would not be a neighborly thing to do except as a last resort, Conway would have to refuse about 125 tuition students within the next five years, probably on an individual town basis. Eventually, and perhaps within a very few years, the tuition towns would form their own co-operative, and Conway would end up with no tuition students and a school one-third too large for its own pupils. The resultant disruption in class set-up would inevitably increase the cost per student, and probably force a cut-back in the curriculum. The Committee gave only passing consideration to this alternative, and did not vote on it.

(c) Set up a partial co-operative, for grades 10-11-12 only.

There was some sentiment for this plan, particularly on the assumption that it might be easier to sell to the voters. However, it was generally recognized that this would create as many problems as it solved, and would eventually lead to a full 7-12 co-operative.

(d) A full co-operative, grades 7-8-9 in the present Kennett High and grades 10-11-12 in a new building. A substantial majority of the Committee voted for this plan.

5. THE FULL CO-OPERATIVE

(a) Curriculum

The improvement in curriculum would not be achieved by the addition of a variety of new subjects. At most, the Committee recommends the addition of one foreign language, Spanish or German, if the demand justifies it. Rather, the aim is to come closer to the ideal of a "comprehensive" school, which strives to provide

- (1) to the student who intends to go to college, an opportunity for more extensive preparation in the sciences, mathematics, and languages.
- (2) to the student who will not go to college, an opportunity for more extensive preparation in the industrial and commercial arts, and home economics.

- (3) to all students, the good general education which is the foundation for solid citizenship in a democracy.

To achieve this, courses in manual arts, fine arts, and home economics would be brought down into the Junior High curriculum, leaving time and space for more advanced scheduling in Senior High. After graduation, the student's superior training would greatly facilitate admission to college or integration into industry.

(b) Facilities

Senior High

The estimated potential enrollment for grades 10-11-12 during the next six years is as follows:

Year beginning September	Estimated Potential Enrollment
1961	423
1962	447
1963	513
1964	547
1965	535
1966	500

The proposed new Senior High school would consist of 24 classrooms, gymnasium and cafeteria, and would include modern laboratories, shops, and home economics equipment. It would take care of 600 students. The school could be located just across the railroad tracks from Kennett High. The site, which is ideal for the purpose, is believed to be available at a very reasonable price.

Junior High

The estimated potential enrollment for grades 7-8-9 during the next five years is as follows:

Year beginning September	Estimated Potential Enrollment
1961	597
1962	582
1963	537
1964	548
1965	568

The present Kennett High would be adequate for this estimated enrollment, and its facilities, far superior to those of the present junior high building would permit the expansion in Junior High curriculum recommended above.

(c) Administration

The co-operative school would, of itself, constitute a separate school district, managed by its own school board. The Committee recommends that this board be made up of an odd number of members, not to exceed 15, with at least one member from each participating town. Town members would be elected by each town at its annual school meeting, and the remaining members-at-large would be elected at the annual meeting of the co-operative school district. (State law would have to be changed to permit a 15-man board and the recommended method of election, but no difficulty is anticipated in obtaining this change).

(d) Cost

The estimated cost of the new Senior High School is about $1,050,000. However, reimbursement up to 55% of the cost would be available from the State of New Hampshire. Kennett High would be acquired by the co-operative for about $450,000. Annual operation and transportation costs are estimated at $180,000 for the Senior High, and $155,000 for the Junior High.

6. FINANCING AND ALLOCATING THE COST

- (a) The cost of facilities acquired by the co-operative would be covered by bonds, to be repaid over a 20-year period.
- (b) The committee recommends that the cost of acquisition and operation be shared among the participants: one-half on the basis of number of students and one-half on the basis of equalized valuation.
- (c) Estimated results of allocation (for the FIRST YEAR) are shown in the table on the facing page.

The co-operative cost, grades 7-12 shown in the table includes not only operation and transportation but the cost of acquisition as well.

The table includes, for the FIRST YEAR, principal and interest on the new building, (less State reimbursement), of $59,685. This amount is scheduled to decrease each succeeding year, and at the TWENTIETH YEAR would be $25,172.

7. TIME SCHEDULE

The Committee would like to emphasize the time element involved in this project. Assuming acceptance by the voters in March, 1961, the organization of the co-operative school district and the awarding of contracts for the new Senior High within six months thereafter, would leave only one year for the actual building of the school by the critical date, September of 1962.
